FOREWORD

It has been a little over a half century since our movement set its sights on America. Over those 50 years we have become more sophisticated in our efforts and we have learned from our mistakes. We have been richly rewarded for our patience and methodical approach to subverting our enemy. As we begin the last leg of our revolution in this new millennium, many of our enemy's citizens have been converted into our agents and operatives.

We have transformed America's press into agencies that would put to shame our Izvestia and Pravda of our golden years back in the USSR. Our enemy's children have been "turned" and now represent one of our core demographics. We have successfully fractured America into competing groups; each estranged from the country that is their home.

Our once powerful enemy is unsure and insecure about its history and traditions. We have inculcated shame and promoted ignorance into America's children such that by the time they become adults they are ashamed of their country while having little or no insight or knowledge about the ways of the world. And they don't even know what has happened to them.

Although we have made great strides, much work needs to be done. This operations manual was designed to provide our new comrades everything they need to continue the subversion and eventual takeover of America. Our long time comrades can also benefit and stay abreast of our latest strategies and tactics by studying this manual. If you follow the principles in this operations manual you will live to see The United Socialist States of America.

INTRODUCTION

This Operations Manual is a compendium of every tool you will need to transform America into our country, a country devoid of the social injustice that has characterized it since its inglorious beginning.

As with everything we do and say we shall package our thoughts and deeds into bite sized doses of fairness, goodness, equality and justice, for who can stand against or dare criticize goodness, equality and justice?

We will begin our journey by stating our fundamental principles of action. Each chapter will give voice to a building block of our revolution. Stay true to our fundamental principles and it is only a matter of time before we can lay claim to the spoils of our victory, The United States of America.

What follows is a statement from one of our movement's defectors, a traitor by the name of Yuri Bezmenov. Despite the fact that "Yuri the Traitor" intended his statement to "wake up" our enemy, we are not worried because our movement has been so good at dumbing-down our enemy's citizens, regardless of what they hear or learn, just as Yuri “the traitor” said, they will not have the presence of mind to do anything about it.

CHAPTER I

We Are Not Marxists, Communists or Socialists

From this moment forward we are no longer Marxists, Communists, Collectivists or Socialists. We are Progressives or simply Liberals. After all, to not be Progressive is to be regressive and that is what our enemies are: Regressive and backward.

From this moment forward we shall not look or behave like those who came before us. Our grandfathers and mothers made the mistake of identifying themselves honestly in all manner and style.

You will come to trust the fact that we can hide in plain view. We have spent decades blurring the difference between image and substance. You can count on our victim's inability to see past our facade. Be filled with joy, fellow comrade, with the confidence that comes from knowing that you can hide in plain sight!

CHAPTER II

Know Thine Enemy

Our enemy conceived of, fought for and developed The United States of America. Our enemy's country was originally comprised of mostly Anglo-Christians who promulgated their values and religious doctrine through their public schools, government institutions and nuclear families. Their documents, including The Declaration of Independence, Constitution and its Bill of Rights, along with their reliance upon Biblical principles, represent a lethal threat to our existence and success of our movement.

Our enemy used to be very good at passing on to future generations their values, American principles and national identity. They were so good at handing down their values that our enemy became complacent, believing that what they put in place would always be there. We shall rely upon and exploit their complacency.

CHAPTER III

Circumvent Their Defenses

We begin as we always begin, with great patience and a plan. We must first attack our enemy's nuclear family structure because that is the framework within which they pass down their traditional American values to their children and all future generations.

We will focus our assault upon their children while they are away at school. Young minds are malleable and vulnerable. We will have access to their children for six or more hours per day, nine or more months out of the year. America's public schools will become our indoctrination camps where child by child, mind by mind, we will chip away at everything our enemy holds dear. We will not move too quickly, for it is much easier to sneak up on your enemy and kill him little by little than it is to attack everything he stands for all at once.

CHAPTER IV

The Enemy of My Enemy is Our Friend

Anglo-European Christians founded our enemy's country. Their descendants and their converts represent a serious threat to the success of our revolution.

Deists are a threat because of the following simple precept of human behavior. When citizens believe that their rights come from God or a higher power and not from the state, they are harder to control, regulate and resist becoming members of the collective. In place of the state, they favor a relationship with their God and their nuclear family. While we have identified Christians as our mortal enemy, we are not the only group who finds these American believers, their descendants and converts to be the enemy. Competing religions along with agnostics and atheists are our natural allies in our efforts to win the revolution. One group is particularly well suited to be our ally.

Billions of human beings are Muslim. Islam is not only a religion but it is equally, if not more so, a political movement that is dedicated to converting the world to Islam. Over the past decade our American adversaries have foolishly enraged hundreds of millions of Muslims everywhere. This has provided our revolution a point of leverage and a ready-made ally. Our political scientists have concluded that it will be much easier to overcome the forces of Islam than it will be to overcome the forces of American/Western deists. Therefore, we should promote the ascendancy of Islam.

We have embarked upon a systematic devaluation of Christianity while simultaneously promoting Islam. Our efforts in this regard mean that we shall never miss an opportunity to make fun of, criticize, exclude and otherwise ridicule Christians and Christianity. Our comrades, along with avowed and unwitting sympathizers in the mass media and the entertainment industry, have been brilliant at aiding and abetting our plan. On any given day in America you can see our handiwork as Muslims, agnostics, atheists, homosexual coalitions and secular humanists ridicule Christians and Christianity, all the while promoting our religion, The Religion of Tolerance.

We shall never miss an opportunity to force Americans to permit Muslims to impose their rule of law. We are particularly interested in empowering imperialistic Muslims who are intent upon establishing a new Islamic caliphate while simultaneously infiltrating America's institutions. For example, whenever the enemy of our enemy makes efforts to introduce Shari'a law into America, we shall promote and finance these efforts, including going to court on their behalf.

Here is a representative example of our efforts at work. The enemy of our enemy has made clear their desire to erect a Mosque on the site of the destroyed 9/11 World Trade Center Towers. We support this effort and we expect our operatives and sympathizers to stop those patriotic Americans who are dedicated to preventing what they call the building of an Islamic “victory mosque” that would add “insult to injury.”

Our sympathizers have taken the lead in our efforts to devalue Christianity and promote Islam. Their efforts are proof positive of the effectiveness of two of our other psychological operations: Mandated multiculturalism and the promotion of secular humanism.

We have managed to confuse and blur one of our enemy’s central principles, what they call “freedom of religion.” Factually, the Anglo-Christians who founded America were intent upon preventing any future government from establishing a state run/sanctioned religion, e.g., The Church of England. We have been remarkably successful at redefining this principle to mean that America cannot be true to or celebrate its deist roots. Our efforts have resulted in our ability to force Christians to rebuke their holidays, practices, celebrations and expressions of their philosophy, all the while quietly promoting the introduction of competing religions to be taught to public school children. The proponents and followers of these competing religions and philosophies are jingoistic and are not tolerant of their host country’s culture or religion. We do not insist upon tolerance when it comes to the groups who compete with our enemy.

Once we have weakened Christianity to the point where we can assume control of the government, we shall begin the systematic destruction of Mosques, Churches and other threatening religious edifices, just as we did in the USSR. We will systematically destroy Islam and all but a few religions that are simpatico with or not a threat to our movement. In a short time we shall manufacture a generation of new Americans who have awakened from their religious stupor and become rock-ribbed secular humanists.

CHAPTER V

Right & Wrong are ONLY Frames of Reference

Our enemy, the United States of America, was built upon “immutable” principles, supposedly sourced from God. Our enemy uses words like “truth” and “right” and “wrong.” But we have an antidote to this poison: Moral relativism.

We shall exploit man’s tendency to think of himself as God, to want to be God-like, all the while we firmly insist that God does not exist. We shall exploit the inevitable conflicts that come from carnal desire governed by morality by promoting carnal desire and redefining moral principles as only points of reference. Our comrades in the media-entertainment complex have been our most important allies when it comes to achieving this goal.

The immature, pampered and narcissistic mind loves the idea that it creates reality, that man’s wants, wishes and desires are more important than and take precedence over countries, documents, parents or yes, even God.

The younger we begin the cleansing of our enemy's children's conscience the better and more complete will be the final result. Years ago our behavioral experts identified the need to excise prayer from public schools. Removing prayer in these government run institutions has been one of our greatest successes. Still, we should remain vigilant because our enemy is intent upon undoing our social engineering successes. Our enemy has proposed a "moment of silence" approach to circumventing our ban on public school prayer. The mere act of a moment of silence or spiritual reflection serves as a meta-communication that there is a higher power than man, that man is not the end all, be all. If the dominant religious philosophy is Christianity then a moment of reflection inevitably encourages the imagination to conjure up Christian images.

We should never lose sight of the fact that the void created by our excision of religion in America's culture must be filled with something. We intend to fill the void with a blind allegiance to the state, to the collective and to the village. We shall encourage man to become a slavish devotee to the "Green religion." Holidays rooted in the change of the seasons, health foods and new age-psychology are not a threat to our movement and are consistent with our revolutionary goals.
